

INTERNSHIP OPPORTUNITIES:

Publication: Outdoor Life

Industry: Publishing, Entertainment, Internet/Online/New Media

Salary: Unpaid

Benefits: Flexible Hours

Job Duration: 10-12 weeks

Job Location: New York City midtown

Job Requirements:

Outdoor Life magazine is looking to fill a variety of internship openings at our New York City location. Interns will have the opportunity to participate at all levels of a fast-paced magazine and website. Multiple positions are available year-round. We are currently recruiting for immediate openings and Summer 2010.

Editorial Intern:

Editorial Interns will have the opportunity to gain a hands-on experience with Outdoor Life magazine. Sections include: Hunting, Fishing, Camping/Survival, Shooting and Gear. Tasks include actively searching for breaking news stories, fact-checking, proofreading, pitching story ideas, some writing and participating in all aspects of Outdoor Life's content creation.

Online Intern:

Online Interns will dive head first into OutdoorLife.com's content management system and development. Duties will include scouring the web for the latest hunting/fishing news, digital image preparation and creation of photo galleries, interacting with social media sites and interacting with the amazing cast of characters that is our online readership. The ideal candidate will have an understanding of HTML/CSS/Adobe Creative Suite programs as well as experience using a CMS ( Content Management System).

Photo Intern:

Photo Interns will be working directly with the Photo Editor and designers to research, edit, select, shoot, and assign photography for all sections of the book. Responsibilities will also include photo returns, contract mailing, and administrative duties that require extreme attention to detail and organizational skills. Interns with studio shooting experience are a plus, as there are opportunities to shoot products at our in-house studio and to attend studio photo shoots. The ideal candidate will already have some shooting experience for a local or school newspaper, or at least one editorial internship focused on a photography career. Intern candidates should have an interest in editorial photography and the magazine business, and show an interest in the subject matter of Outdoor Life (hunting, fishing, survival skills and outdoor adventure).

About Outdoor Life:

Published since 1898, Outdoor Life is the premier hunting and fishing magazine in the country. Our mission is to inform, entertain and help outdoorsmen become more successful at the sports they love. Outdoor Life reaches 5.6 million sportsmen every issue.
